

Call for Nominations

RDWA Board of Directors

Three Vacant Positions

The Rural Doctors Workforce Agency provides the workforce to enhance the health and wellbeing of rural communities in South Australia.

The RDWA is calling for nominations for three vacant positions on the RDWA Board.

Nominations are sought from people with a commitment to the charter, values and principles of the RDWA, and a willingness and capacity to contribute to principles of sound governance of the organisation.

Positions for which nominations are sought are:

- Rural Medical Practitioner
- Rural Doctor in Training
- Member with Financial Expertise

Board members are appointed for three-year terms, commencing November 2017. Nominees will be required to include a statement outlining their experience, skills and knowledge and any qualification relevant to the duties of the position description for consideration by a selection panel.

Position descriptions are available from Mr Richard Wilmot, richard.wilmot@ruraldoc.com.au. Nominations should be emailed to Mr Wilmot by 5pm Wednesday 16 August 2017.

Further information is available at ruraldoc.com.au.

Enquiries regarding the nomination or the positions can be directed by email to the CEO, Ms Lyn Poole: lyn.poole@ruraldoc.com.au.
